

Candice Fawley

Director of Programs
Life Cycle Engineering
cfawley@lce.com

Candice Fawley is the Director of Programs at Life Cycle Engineering, working out of the Navy Yard Office located in South Philadelphia. Ms. Fawley is responsible for overseeing the business operations that LCE provides primarily in support of NSWCPD and NAVAIR. As a professional in the industry for over 15 years, she is a demonstrated leader with extensive experience in contractual, financial, and program management requirements for the U.S. Navy. Candice has led multiple teams to contractual, financial, and mission success.

Ms. Fawley brings an entrepreneurial spirit and is focused on business growth, professional development, and has a passion for mentorship, particularly specific to Women in the Defense Industry.

Ms. Fawley currently holds a bachelor's degree in Finance from Rowan University as well as other industry relevant certifications such as CFCM and CDFM.